Republican Nominations,

We gave yesterday morning the State ticket nominated by the Republican Conrention at Providence on the ensuing day. Want of space compels to wait until tomorrow the full report of their proceedings and the two Congressional Conventions which were the same evening.

That for the Western District nominated WILLIAM D. BRAYTON, and that of the Eastern District Hon. Thomas Davis, of North Providence. The vote on the latter was as follows on the informal vote:

Thomas Davis of North Providence 36 Nathaniel B. Durfee of Tiverton, Stephen N. Mason of Smithfield, William P. Sheffield of Newport, Benjamin T. Eames of Providence, Byron M. Chace of North Providence, Mr.Davis was then declared unanimous ly the nominee.

A New War of the Succession.

There is not a sadder or more instruct ive page in English History than that which records the death of one of Engs land's greatest kings,-the powerful and ambitious Edward III. The father of an group of stalwart sons, the conqueror of France, the strong handed sovereign of his own realm through a long reign, lay at last upon his deathbed. Of all who had done him reverence, there were none around him except a few menials; and the breath yet lingered in the dying monarch's body, when these laid hands upon everything of value in the palace-one chronicler even say that they stripped the costly coverings from the bed of death-and left the old man to

Now Mr. James Buchanan, as a ruler o men, will hardly furnish a parallel to Edword the Third. Lie has begotten no political posterity to carry on his labors in his own spirit, as others of our own President may be said to have done. The only conquest he has yet attempted-that of Konsas-has not had a remarkably brilliant result; and he not only failed in governing the whole country, but even of keeping in proper discipline his own Democratic troops In one respect, and one only, the resemblance seems complete. Two years still intervene before the President will give up the ghost of office, and already his attendants are carrying off, bit by bit, the poor trappings of statesmanship with which he seeks to cover his shivering limbs. Mr. Douglas like a confident and vain-glorious beir-apparent, openly holds an oppositioncourt, for all disposed to worship the rise ing sun, or the bon-fire which they mistake for it. Gen. Jefferson Davis at the South, and Gen. Caleb Cushing at the North, are each tugging at a corner of the mantle which the Slave Power throws over the shoulders of its most obsequous servant. Mr. Slidell stands with open palm, to intercept the President's own thirty millions-tohen it comes. Worst of all, Mr. George M. Dallas, whom Pennsylvania once made Vice President, and in whom she found on Arnold, in the Tariff fight of 1847, pipes in "childish treble" from over the water through the columns of the Mobile Register, his desire to exchange the plain brick of Portland Place, for the white, marble of Washington. Nor are we yet at the end of the list. Passing the host who think that the Democratic instinct which nosed out Polk and Pierce, may again find availability in some of the great unbenfil-of, we learn that a clique in Washington are already pulling the wires which are to bring to the front of the stage, the late Secretary of the Treasury, James Guthrie. This gentleman, during his four years' service under the Pierce administration, showed his wisdom by minding his own business, and keeping as much as possible aloof from the general policy of that unhappy cabinet. Like hi colleague Marcy, he did well what was un der his own personal control, and as little as possible beyond. This of itself should be a recommendation; and no man has yet been named, of that side in politics, whom, as a manly and worthy antagonist, the opposition could meet with more sincere respect. Moderate in his views, and, thus far at least, above the petty tricks of office seering politicians, he comes before the people with a clear if not a brilliant record-

His views of the tariff are such as will present a definite and fair issue, if that subject becomes, as we think it must, one of the turning points of the election, and if the candidate selected by the opposition shall be a consistent and able exponent of our true Northern policy.

It is hardly fair to close, however, without giving our departing monarch credit for the dying grasp with which he seems to clutch what shieds of hope are left him; as witness the following significant hint from his favorite Pennsylvanian:

Those who have seen the President lately dispensing the lar pitalities of the Executive mansion, speak of him as eshibiting every sign of life and energy. His step is firm; he reads without glusses. At his evening receptions, he mainfains his position on the floor from 80 clock until 10, manifesting no symptom of weariness or infirmity—and receiving thousands of visitors with the utmost cordiality. He is in many respects a most emarkable man, and his character is worthy Those who have seen the President lately of study. Ric is every inch a President. If he be not his own autoersor, the next Chief Ragistrate will not be his equal.

Will he really insist that he is not dying after all, and live to defraud his heirs of the coveted inheritance?

A Voice from Virginia.

From the year 1853, when Franklin Pierce took the Presidential chair, down to this present time, the whole policy of the administration has been to scene at all hazards, and by every kind of unscrupulous service; the undivided vote of the South. To do this it has not only alienated all the moderate men of the North, and driven into the Republican ranks the very Union-savers of 1850, but has alienated many of its own adherents, whose remembrance of their ear. ly Democracy was too strong to permit them to accept the spurious stuff which now claims its name. Still, with doughfaces at the North, and the whole South in a solid phalanx, such men as Franklin Pierce and James Buchanan have obtained their places and carried their measures.

But there are men at the South, whom not even their truckling to the " peculiar institution" can buy or silence, and the number of these is increasing. There are others who have used the Administration for their own ends, till they are tired of their tool and ready to throw it by for some newer one. There is a sorry outlook for the party which having trusted to sectional feeling in place of any principle for its support hears at last from a man like A. H. H. Stuart, (a former member of the Cabinet,) in a state like Virginia, language like this:

"Surely, the people of Virginia must awake from their lethergy ere long! When they see doctrines broached by the Execu-tive, for the regulation of our intercourse with foreign nations, which could be tole rated only by a gang of freebooters; when they see all fraternal feeling between the North and the South destroyed by machinations of the Federal Government; when they witness the monstrous—demand of thirty millions of dollars, to be drawn from the public treasury and placed at the control of the Executive, when they see a Democratic Senate abandoning its executive functions, and willing, in advance, to ratify any treaty the President may ne-gotiate for the acquisition of Cuba; when they perceive that one line of conduct is prescribed for our dealings with strong naions, and another for those that are weak and defenseless; when they discover that the golden rule of asking of other countries " nothing but what is right, and "submit-ting to nothing that is wrong," is utterly ignored; when they find that, in a time of profound peace, the expenses of the Govern ment are swelled from filty millions of dol-lars to eighty millions; when they learn that the surplus of seventeen millions, which was in the Trensury when Mr. Buchanan came into power, has been squan-dered, and all the current revenues are gone, a debt of sixty or seventy millions has been created in two years; when they see that American industry has been pro trated to foster the labor and reward the capital of foreign nations; when they are told that we tax the productions of foreign nations only twenty per cent, on an average, while they tax our productions (except cotton, which they cannot do without), on an average, three hundred per cent., and Virginia tobacco about one thousand per -surely, I say, the people must awake to a just sense of their wrongs; surely, they must rise in the majesty of their strength and harl from power the party that has so shamefully abused their confidence."

The Queen's decision in favor of Ottawa as the seat of government of Canada has been carried in the Legislative Assembly by a majority of five.

LOCAL INTELLICENCE.

TRINITY CHURCH .- Mr. J. P. Newell has laid upon our table an accurate and finely finished lithograph of this yenerable edifice, which will doubtless meet with great favor among our citizens. For "old Trinity" belongs not merely to its own parish but to all Newport, and is loved and admired by many beside those whose first boy sh recollections are of seats upon little "crickets" at somebody's feet, away down in the envernous depths of those great square pews, and whose chief thought all through sermon time was about what would become of good old Mr. Wheaton if the umbrella shaped sounding-board should suddenly come down upon him. Trinity spire on those days was their ideal of architecture ; and more than one comes back now, after long wanderings to gaze with almost childlike pleasure at its graceful proportions. Long may it point to heaven, after those who gaze upon it now are beneath green mounds like those within its shadow.

It is to be regretted that the artist has not chosen a view giving the chief prominence to this, the finest feature of the build. ing, rather than the plain and commonplace side wall; nor would it have been a great stretch of imagination to omit the unsightly wooden doors that now cover the monument of the French Admiral, and to display the latter. But yet we owe Mr. Newell thanks for a very faithful and welcome likeness.

The artist and Messra. Huzard & Caswell have them for sale.

LATER FROM BLOCK ISLAND,—THE IS-LANDERS WAX WROTH AND EXTRADITE A BARREL OF GIN! -DECLARATION OF WAR! THE DEVIL TO BE EXPELLED THE ISLAND! -Recent advices from Block Island disclose the fact of a radical revolution in progress there, calculated to work a salutary change in the moral aspect of that isolated community. A correspondent writes us as follows :

"One barrel of "The Devil's Eye-Wa-"One paret of "The Devil's 15%-Wa-ter," so called, after being shipped from the port of Newport to New Shoreham, has been re-shipped to that port. We wish to have it understood by this, that we do not want the tears of such a crea-ture here; because if it is allowed to enter our dwellings, it causes our wives and chil-dren to weep. Therefore Captain Dodge, with quite a number of others, have concluded not to give the Devil or his " tears' any quarter among us. We have been waiting years for our Legislature to enact laws for the suppression of this great evil. They have enacted laws; but the that enacted them are the first to our land (especially this island) with the accursed stuff."

If Captain Dodge has determined, as the above would seem to indicate, to transport no more liquors to Black Island, then is the case of the few confirmed topers of New Shoreham desperate indeed. If they are possessed of the inventive faculties which usually attach to men of that class, they will find means of getting it, even if they have to swim across from Newport with the jug in their teeth.

FIRE.-About 11 o'clock last night, a fire broke out in the stables of Mr. C. P. Barber, on Frank Street. The stables were filled with baled hay, and the fire was well under way before the plarm was given, having already broken through the roof, and at one time the destruction of the stables and contents was regarded as certain. There was some delay in getting the engines at work; but when they did begin, they made up for last time.

A horse which was in the stable, was got out, as were also several bundles of hay. We were not able to ascertain the amount of less or insurance. Had there been a strong wind instead of the calm that prevailed, nothing could have prevented a screous conflagration.

We are requested to say, that Dr. Wood has been unexpectedly called from town by the death of a friend. In consequence, all of his classes, public and vate, are postponed to next week.

The trial of the new Hose Coupling on the Parade yesterday, was postponed on account of the storm. It will take place at 12 o'clock, to-day.

The Union Prayer Meeting to-night, will be in the Marlborough Street church,

See advertisement of New York Ledger in to-days' paper.

A Good Little Girl .- "It is not propca for you to play school, my dear, to-day for it's Sunday."

"I know it, mother," replied the little girl, "but it is Sunday school that I am playing."

XXXVTH CONGRESS.

Second Sussian. Washington, Feb. 14. Both Houses of Congress devoted the Both Houses of Congress devoted the day to talking about the Tariff—Mr. Hunter of Virginia having the ear of the Senate, while Mr. Phillips of Pennsylvania bore a leuding part in the House. These gentlemen are both Democrats, but "with ma difference"—Mr. Hunter being a Southern or Free-Trade Democrat, while Mr. Phillips is a Pennsylvania or necidental-Penterical Democrat. The reader may Protection Democrat. The reader may help himself to whichever of these sorts of Democracy he may prefer, unless he should have the good taste to eschew them both. And, while we consider Mr. Hunter entirely, utterly wrong, we regard his position with more respect than that of Mr. Phillips, who is most inconsistently, illogically, about hall right. After Bigler & Co. have given the whole matter into the hands of Mr. Hunter, it is preposterous on their part to profess a fervid zeal for incidental Protection.

And now let us beg both Senate and House to stop talking about the Tariff and betake themselves to voting upon it. Whether anything or nothing is to be it is high time that the country should know and govern itself accordingly. Do, Messieurs of the House Committee of Ways and Means! report your several bills—report them ail—in any order rather than not at ail—and let us have a fair yote on each. If you decide to do nothing, very well; if you decide to do nothing, not so well; but at all events, decide! and let the country shape its business ac dingly. Give us the Yeas and Nays!
